GUIDE TO PERSONAL ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR STUDENTS PURSUING EDUCATION AND RESEARCH

This university is a member of the universities supporting "Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research" and is ready to accept their application for the insurance.

Outline of This Insurance

1. Scope of activities covered under this insurance:

- (1) Cases where a student suffers a physical injury as a result of a sudden and fortuitous accident of an external origin while he or she is engaged in educational and research activities at this university,

1) During curricular activities:

Periods during which the insured is attending lectures, laboratory work, experiments, seminars, or practicums (hereinafter referred to collectively as "classes"), including:

- periods during which the insured is working on a graduation thesis or a doctor's or master's thesis under an instructor's guidance except when the insured is engaged in these activities at his or her private residence;
- periods during which the insured is making preparations for or a follow-up of classes under an instructor's guidance, or the insured is engaged in research activities in a classroom, university library, reference room, or language laboratory.

2) During school events:

Periods during which the insured is participating in any kind of school events as part of educational activities, including ceremonies for entrance, orientation or commencement conducted by the university.

3) On school premises for reasons other than those in 1) or 2) above:

Periods during which the insured is staying at facilities owned, used or managed by the university for educational purposes, except when he or she is at a dormitory, or is in a place prohibited by the university or is on school premises during hours prohibited by the university or is engaged in activities prohibited by the university.

4) While being engaged in extracurricular activities (club activities) off school facilities with notice to the school:

Periods during which the insured is participating in cultural or athletic activities in accordance with the university rules and regulations and under the supervision of a student group approved by the university, except when he or she is engaged in mountain-climbing, hang-gliding, or other dangerous types of sports.

- (2) The insured sustains a physical injury while commuting to school or in transit between school facilities.

(Note) This special coverage is applicable only when it is added to the original policy subject to an additional premium. The words "commuting to school" and "in transit between school facilities" shall mean:

1) commuting to school

Periods during which the insured travels back and forth between his or her residence and school facilities by a logical route and means (excluding means prohibited by the university) for the purpose of participating in university classes, school events and extracurricular activities (club activities) of the university.

2) in transit between school facilities

Periods during which the insured is in transit by a logical route and means (excluding means prohibited by the university) between school facilities owned, used or managed by the university for educational and research purposes, as well as between locations where classes, school events or extracurricular activities are conducted, for the purpose of participating in university classes, school events and extracurricular activities (club activities) of the university.
